Dear Parents/Guardians,

It is hard to believe that we have been through 6 weeks of remote learning. While teachers have excelled in the delivery of their lessons and most students have been fully engaged, nothing can beat in-person teaching and learning. We are all yearning to have students in seats and have the school be more alive in the coming weeks. We are grateful that schools will be reopening on October 25th!

While we wait for this to happen, I encourage all students to stay engaged with their classes and reach out for any supports that they may need. I know that the homeroom teachers have continually added in their weekly schedule opportunities to be physically active. Mr. Wicks has worked on making sure that there are ways for all students to engage in being physically active as a method of supporting positive mental health and wellness. If for any reason your child needs to speak with someone they can always reach out to Emily Johnston, our Child and Youth Care Counsellor (CYCC). emily.johnston@ykl.nt.ca

The GNWT is launching a voluntary student testing pilot project for children aged 5-11 years old. While we were not selected as a participating school, we will monitor the information that comes from this and there is the possibility that we could be included in the project down the road. The full GNWT document is accessible on the second page and emails went home to families who may have children in schools that are participating.

Report card season is fast approaching. November 1st will be a day for teachers to work on the report cards and there will be no school that day. There have been many questions surrounding the report cards for term 1 and I can assure you that we have been working on the best way to communicate student growth so that it is meaningful and valuable to students and teachers. With a focus on the core subjects within student programming over the last 6 weeks, you can expect there will be comments regarding Numeracy, Literacy, Science, and Social Studies. General comments will be used for other subject areas. (PE, Music). There will be further information coming soon in another communique.

Please stay safe,

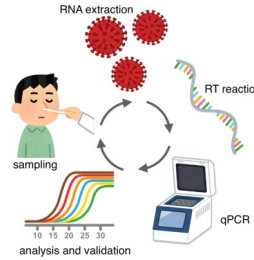

Mahsi, Thank-you, Merci

Panbio Covid-19 Screening Pilot

As you may have heard, the GNWT with support of YKI will be implementing a Voluntary Covid Screening process for children 5-11. Please see the details Here: GNWT Screening Pilot. Our school was not selected as part of this pilot Project. Should we be invited to participate in the future we will be sure to communicate this with you at the earliest.

Computer Returns

Please have your child return their computer in the bag provided along with the power cord and the Turbo Stick should they have one. Having students return the computers in a timely manner will allow them to be redistributed to the proper classrooms quickly.

Next PAC meeting
will be November
17th, 2021.

Exploratories

Outdoor Education– Please remember that we go outside for this class. Be prepared!

Culinary Arts–Remember to bring your empty containers to put the goodies you make in.....unless you eat it all before the end of class!

Industrial Arts–Count your fingers before you go in so you have the same when you leave! Haha

Arts– Make sure you cover up the nice clothes that you are wearing when in this class!

Technology– Watch for low flying aircraft in the classroom..... Losing a bit of hair never hurt anyone!
