

Mildred Hall School

Life-long Learning

Indigenous language and culture education provides all students with an opportunity to experience and learn about the First Peoples of the NWT and their rich heritage.

Mildred Hall School (MHS) allows students to experience Indigenous culture and traditions through culture camps. In Indigenous language and culture programs, students explore and learn about traditional knowledge, language and life.

Meaningful learning experiences for students engage the whole child and motivate a love of learning and the lifelong pursuit of knowledge.

Real World Experience

Located in the heart of downtown Yellowknife, MHS provides students with a welcoming learning environment.

"Strength in Diversity" is a focus at Mildred Hall. Students are encouraged to build upon their strengths, feel success, and celebrate their unique abilities and talents. Our Eagle Awards celebrate these strengths twice yearly.

Enrichment, gifted and student support programs as well as differentiated instruction is used to match program delivery to individual student needs and strengths.

Literacy-focused programming together with family events, outdoor education activities, culture camps, and city-wide choir performances and community service are a few examples of how student learning connects to the "real world".

Innovative teaching and diverse learning opportunities bring learning to life, and encourage students to take an active role in their own education.

Quality Education

A wide range of programming options are designed to support individual student needs.

Students have the chance to explore their world and gain understanding from a variety of perspectives.

Integrated programs are used to support, recognize, and develop positive behaviours.

Ongoing professional development (PD) for educators is a vital link between current research and classroom practice. PD enhances program delivery and learning experiences for students.
